LEIGON HOLDS MOBILIZATION

FRESH WATER FOR DAM FRIDAY

Water from the Mokelumne river will be turned into the San Pablo reservoir Friday, according to advices received from F. W. Hanna, chief engineer of the $25,000,000 Eastbay Municipal Utility District water project.

The western end of the aqueduct, at San Pablo creek, will be opened late today and by Friday water from the San Pablo reservoir will be delivered to castbay users.

"We had hoped to deliver the first water from Lancha Plana to the San Pablo reservoir last Tuesday," Hanna said yesterday, "but the rains prevented us from completing the last link in the aqueduct—that of connecting the pipeline and the Pardon tunnel. That was finished Wednesday, however."

The first water from the Mokelumne river reservoir is scheduled to be released today and started through the 93 mile aqueduct of the Eastbay Municipal Utility District.

The fresh water from Lancha Plana, Hanna stated yesterday, will be used to force out nearly 50,000,000 gallons of water from the San Joaquin river which was pumped into the aqueduct several months ago for the purpose of revealing any leaks that might develop.

Drainage of the pipeline and replacement of the waste water will take about 18 hours, it was said. After the level of the Lancha Plana reservoir has been lowered, construction of a water tower which will regulate the flow through the aqueduct will be started, Hanna said.

YOUNG SIGNS SCHOOL BILL

SACRAMENTO, June 19.—Two bills relating to public schools were signed today by Gov. C. C. Young who rejected two other school bills.

The governor signed the retirement salary plan whereby teachers may contribute not to exceed four percent of their annual salaries and the governing board of the district may match this contribution with an equal amount. He also signed a bill permitting school boards to subscribe for memberships in educational societies or research societies approved by the state board of education.

Vetoed bills were for state publication of supplemental text books and for the granting by local school boards of sabbatical leaves of absence to teachers after five years of service.

The governor held that the supplemental text book bill was unconstitutional. Under the terms textbooks would be published by the state and sold to the school districts.

Since the leave of absence bill contained no provision that after five years the teachers could not be given leaves so frequently as to make them permanent it was disapproved by the governor.

Last night the child was placed in its crib alongside its parents' bed. This morning when Souza awoke, he found the child's head buried beneath the crib blankets.

Suit Against Eastbay Utility District Opens

MARTINEZ, June 19.—Trial of a suit instituted by Frank Teiche of Orinda park for damages of $25,000 against the East Bay Municipal Utility District for the alleged destruction of a spring on his lands was started today before Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie.

Teiche claims that the spring was tapped by the boring of the district's Claremont tunnel.

The trial follows an unavailing effort to reach a settlement in the suit which has been pending since March, 1927. Teiche declares that the boring of the tunnel destroyed his spring supply from which he obtained 800 gallons per day previous to the tunnel work.

Teiche last week obtained a temporary restraining order from Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado, prohibiting the Utility District from draining Mokelumne river water into the San Pablo creek. The order was later dissolved.

2 BOYS MUST HANG FOR KILLING

OAKLAND, June 19.—(U.P.)—Execution of two youths for the murder of George "Dad" Jones, Livermore taxi driver, was ordered by a jury here this afternoon but one of them may escape the noose by pleading insanity.

George Ryley and John Gomez were found guilty of first degree murder without recommendation for life imprisonment. The verdict means that Gomez must be hanged unless he wins an appeal or gains executive clemency while Ryley will be tried immediately to determine his sanity.

The youths killed Jones with a hammer and then robbed him. They had called him to a lonely ranch house near Livermore late at night on the pretense that they wanted a ride.

Mrs. Ramona Delacra, Vallejo, sister of Ryley, collapsed when the jury's decision was read.

Motion for non-suit was made by City Prosecutor Lloyd Nix, who recently announced his intention of prosecuting each of 143 defendants charged with making usurious loans to the corporation during stock pools.

The prosecution's case is based on refusal of Jack Bennett, Julian manipulator, to testify on the ground that he might incriminate himself in a conspiracy action. He has been convicted of using the mails to defraud and was freed of charges fixing prosecution of himself and others indicted of over-issuing Julian oil stock. ### LOCAL GROUP IN RECORD TURN OUT

Richmond members of the American Legion demonstrated their readiness to answer mobilization calls by turning out 81 strong to answer the call made by Gov. C. C. Young.

Telephone, telegraph and radio, were pressed into service last night when the call was issued by the chief executive of the state.

Immediately after the call was received here, the whistle at the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing plant sounded the warning signal. Working under the direction of J. J. Barry, commander of the Richmond post of the American Legion, post here, work was gathered in the members of the local post by telephone and messenger calls.

RETURN

Always I shall await you, returning,
Earth has no pleasure that can vie with this
Deep ecstasy, that stirs me with its yearning,
And warmth of bliss.

Centuries passed with slow and tedious waning,
Dragging their moments muffled and sear,
Choked with dull misery, and wild complaining—
With you not here.

To-morrow's dawn will catch me with its beauty,
Because its close will bring you—through the pain
Of separate ways and weariness of duty—
Homeward again.

Always I shall await you, Dear, and tender,
Homage to love that touched our pulse a while
With tenderness. Some day we will remember
And, knowing, smile.

HOW ONE MAN SEES IT

SQUAWKS of protest, from girls who aren't married and men who are, continue to rise against the married woman who has the temerity to earn money by doing good work for it. The work is good, all right, for the cards of employment are still stacked against her in the working world, and to hold her job, she has to be as good as, or better than, man or girl. Nevertheless, each too often grumbles at and grudges the married woman's pay envelope.

An anonymous but angry "Business Woman" recently wrote to The World that "there ought to be a law" against the fifty-fifty wife. The cancer that is slowly but surely undoing the American home. She is, according to this writer, responsible for unemployment and low wages. But here is the gist of the letter:

"The woman who works for just the thrill of the thing makes a very unfavorable situation for the worker who really is working to make a decent living. Perhaps there would be fewer calls for reformatories for neglected children if the mothers did their duty to them by devoting all the time which by rights belongs to them. A law should be passed to prevent American and foreign married women engaging in business outside of the home."

This letter contains two obvious misrepresentations of the role of married woman wage-earner. First, she is by no means in the habit of neglecting her children. She may be childless. Her youngsters may be at school, or under other competent supervision. They may be grown up. We'd be willing to wager that women with sufficient seriousness of purpose to work for wages are far less likely to be neglectful mothers than the bridge-playing butterfly type.

Second, the fifty-fifty wife seldom works for "the thrill," but either for sheer necessity or for the equally sound American motive of raising her standard of living. The right of a married woman to work because of this second incentive especially needs emphasis.

WE HEARD a keenly intelligent fifty-fifty husband—who holds a perfectly good job of his own—so well argue the case for his wife's working that we are going to quote his words.

A man had said to him, with the old, egotistical, male irrationality, "Huh—I'd never let my wife work outside her home!"

"I suppose your wife doesn't like about twenty silk dresses at once, blantly came back the fifty-fifty husband. And she doesn't like two-karat diamond rings. And she wouldn't

During the perfect days of the year culinary interest falls to zero. The out-of-doors rather than the gayly decorated kitchenette calls to every woman.

Interesting vegetable dishes to set before the family present more of a problem than in winter. The market stalls are overflowing with fresh treasures, yet the inspiration to utilize them in unusual ways is strangely lacking.

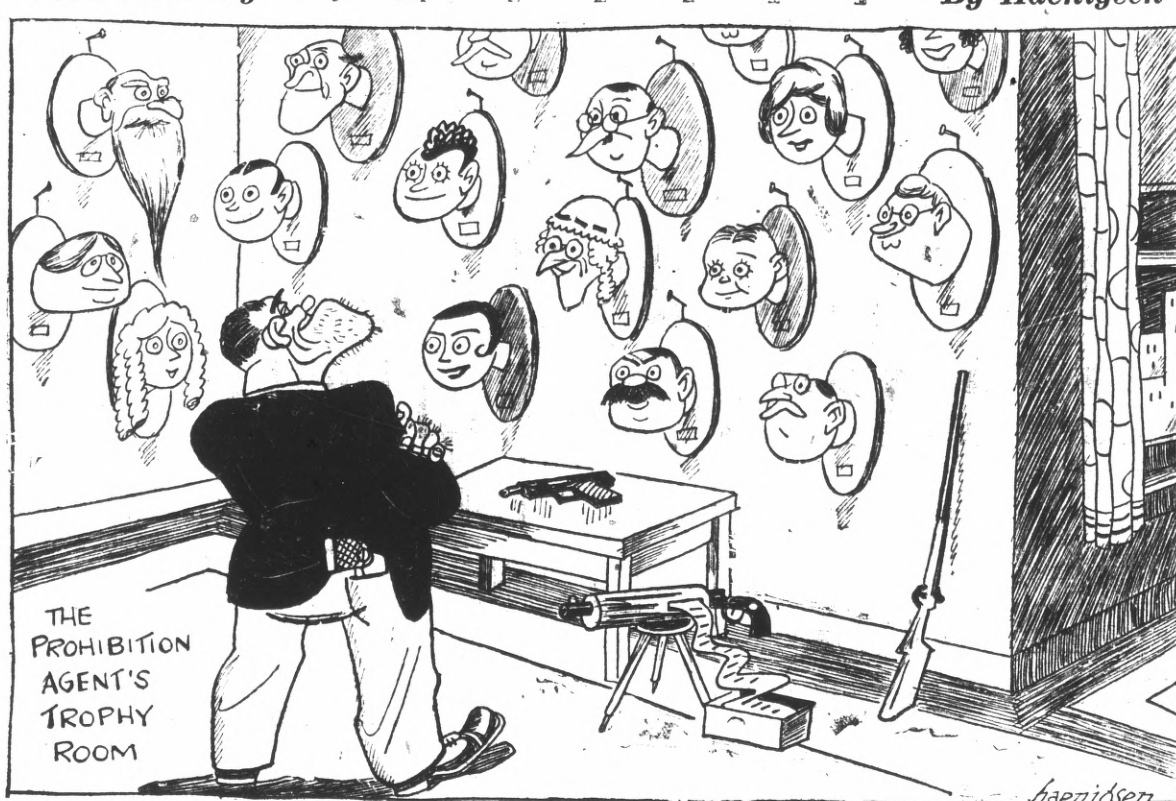

String beans fresh from some garden, small potatoes newly dug from the earth, bright orange carrots, broad-leaved watercress, purple eggplant, white turnips and tomatoed sweet buyers.

For a vegetable dinner dish that takes little last-minute cooking and may be served with braised steak or chops or fish, some combination of universal favorites is suggested. It may well be one known everywhere in this country.

One pound small string beans.
One pound new potatoes.
One onion sliced.
One teaspoon salt.
Sprinkle of pepper.
Two teaspoons butter.

How to Wash Blankets

IF YOU possess a washing machine, washing the blankets is no longer a much-dreaded exertion, but a few rules must be observed.

The water, both for washing and rinsing, should be medium hot (not above 110 degrees F.). Use neutral soap flakes and plenty of them, as there should be no less than one double blanket at one time. If the water is hard, add a little soap flakes to each rinsing water.

Do not use bluing for blankets and do not wring them. Hang them on the line dripping wet, making sure the edges and corners meet and that the weight is evenly distributed on both sides. The quicker the blankets dry the more fairly they will be, so select a clear day for blanket washing and hang them in the breeze. Whip them lightly several times while drying and when thoroughly dry use a wire carpet beater on them.

Vacation Suggestions

If you are taking the baby on a farm, make sure about the milk supply before you engage board. Take no risk with milk that is not perfectly sanitary.

Do not start on your vacation with bad looking luggage. See that the shoe cleaner is cleaned and polished. He will repair slight tears and scratches so they will be invisible. Worn handles and straps can be replaced in most shops where luggage is sold.

When Marketing

Buy ripe fruits in small quantity, as they spoil readily even if kept in a cool place.

Select a piece of bacon or pigs' tails, to cook with the split pea puree.

Washington Hears Hoover Is Out to Defeat Those "Wilful" Republicans Who Vote Against His Policies in Congress

An almost incredible story is going the rounds in Washington relative to the cause of the final break between President Hoover and Dr. Hubert Work, Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

It is to the effect that Mr. Hoover has determined upon a course of militant opposition to those Mid-Western Republicans who vote against the Administration on important national issues.

The President is said to be of a mind to deny the insurgents the right to bear the Republican label. His theory is held to be that as leader of the party he should repudiate them and use all of the power of the National Committee machine to defeat them in the coming year. As Woodrow Wilson sought to do in several notable instances when he was in the White House.

Members of the Republican organization insist that Mr. Hoover could not get away with any such program and for him to attempt it would mean wrecking the party.

The idea is described as having grown from the breakfast-table conferences of the Hoover "Medicine Ball Cabinet" and to have set Dr. Work in such a flurry that the long-anticipated break with the President came with genuine suddenness.

As outlined in responsible quarters, the President not only would have the Republican National Committee take active sides against insurgent Republicans in the party primaries but would give tacit support to conservative Democrats in any such contest.

The plan is held to be subversive of everything both political organizations have developed for many years.

The time has come for a change in party procedure, it is held, and it is held that Dr. Work could not see that at all. He would not go along.

THINK HOOPER A TYRO
Herbert Hoover never has enjoyed the reputation of a "silk politician." The G. O. P. Old Guard thinks right now he is a hopeless amateur.

The fact that the Hoover outsmarted the Old Guard clique, which sought to prevent his nomination at Kansas City and won on the first ballot, ought to silence a lot of talk in that key.

The President is not getting along with Congress. His Senate majority is far larger than he can hope to have after the 1930 elections. His best friends and well wishers envisage no happier time for him during the closing two years of his term than he is having with a Republican majority which is at sixes and sevens with almost every White House policy.

The so-called leaders in the House have made such a sorry mess of things that they are heading straight to self-destruction. They are pursuing a course which far abler men have found ruinous. "Gag rules" and "steam rollers" are out of date. Everyone in Washington seems to know it, with the possible exception of Longworth, Tilson, Snell and a few others.

DR. WORK EASED OUT
Dr. Work of Colorado was eased out of the Chairmanship of the Republican National Committee a few days ago. The causes of his retirement from a position he wished most to retain have been submerged in an exchange of pleasantries with the President and the gossip about a diplomatic appointment for the erstwhile Chairman.

If the close friends of Dr. Work know whereof they speak the incident gives promise of one of the most significant developments in national political affairs since the smashing of the Republican Party in Chicago in 1912.

The information current in Washington is to the effect that President Hoover is nettled so thoroughly over the refusal of Republicans in Congress

Hands and Flowers

THIS little "sermon" is dedicated to the amateur gardener. To her who gets a "yeen" about this time of year for green and growing things. To the woman who finds fun in digging and to-morrow in seed catalogues. To the passionate lover of nature who, in her zeal for buds and blooms, allows her own beauty to wither and go to seed. Her hands and her face.

Just see her there picking the first fruit of her loving toil, ecstatically a morning glory. Triumphantly she bears it into the house and with gurgles of glee fusses about for a container in harmony with the purple velvety of the flower. And with knobby, brown hands which the flower seems to regard with faint reproach, the gardener "arranges" the dainty bloom.

Pause, gardener, and give a thought to yourself. Yes, we know there are thoughts that lie so deep that only a flower can adequately "say" them for us. But there are other thoughts—many, many of them, which only a handi-craft has power to express. Gardener, you've got to do something about those hands! Begin by giving them a thorough wash with almost meat or corn meal plus soap. And then, after you've rid them of deep-bedded soil, set them in a shallow bath of this soothing, beautifying lotion.

HAND LOTION
Rosewater ..... 4 ounces
Tincture of benzoin ..... 1 ounce
Oil of bergamot ..... 2 drops
Add the benzoin to the rosewater, a drop at a time, following with the oil of bergamot. Shake the mixture well before using.

Do not dry the hands after their bath in the lotion. Rather work the mixture into the skin until it is absorbed or nearly absorbed.

Furthermore, we insist that you wear cosmetic gloves and that you work beauty wonders while you sleep. Cosmetic gloves, by the way, is a somewhat technical term for an oversized pair of soft mittens (but not make em), "lined" with the following beautifying goo:

Sweet almond oil ..... 2 ounces
Cocoa butter ..... 2 ounces
Refined white wax ..... 2 ounces
Melt the ingredients and mix them in an earthenware bowl. Stir until cool. And when next you go digging around the roots of growing things, please, please, wear a pair of garden gloves.

leaves a debenture is something to eat. That may be a wise crack to regale a Hoover breakfast. Senator Pine thinks he knows his Oklahoma. It is barely possible Mr. Hoover could be wrong about one thing.

OLD GUARD WONDERS
It seems incredible to Old Guard Republicans that the President, should pursue the political course now being ascribed to him by those who contend they are in a position to know the cause of Dr. Work's resignation as Chairman of the National Committee.

There is no escape from the conviction after intimate conversation with some of the Hoover spokesmen that the President believes something should be done to systematize party politics and put an end to the conditions now existing in the Republican group.

It is significant, perhaps, that the President is not so critical of the Southern anti-Catholic group which is trying to wreck the Democratic organization. That may be due to the fact that he does not feel he can do so much as Horace Mann does not call around as often as he used to or that the President feels he has troubles enough.

There is an adage hereabouts that it all depends on whose ox is gored.

Helping the School Child

By Emilie Hoffman

Copyright Free Publishing Company (New York World) 1929

THE readings for June are among the nature books. These include a large field of subjects and each mother can select whichever she particularly desires to stress.

This month's reading affords an excellent opportunity to interest the child in gardening. Why not start a garden and work it according to suggestions given in the book? There are several good books for beginners in gardening. "Garden Book for Young People," by Alice Lounsberry, is the story of a girl and her brother who have a flower garden together, and the way they worked it is told in detail and will be a stimulus to the young people.

Burgess' "Flower Book for Children" is well known and is one of the treasured possessions of many children. In connection with the book, talks introducing the idea of making friends with the birds, a little book by S. L. Neighbors, entitled "How to Have Bird Neighbors," tells how to make friends with birds by providing baths, etc. The school children will want to include these in their gardens.

If the children are going to spend their vacations in the country, or if you have the good habit of taking family strolls into the country, they will eagerly read a book about wild flowers. Such a book is "Wild Flowers Every Child Should Know," by Frederick W. Stock. Another by Edith Dunham, entitled "Fifty Flower Friends With Familiar Faces," contains a description of fifty well known wild flowers, the months in which they may be found and where to look for them.

"Trees Worth Knowing" is another valuable nature book to put in the hands of children, and there should be walks into the woods and parks to find the trees mentioned and to view the floral growth.

One day can be devoted to visiting the Botanical Gardens in Bronx Park, and just a short stroll will take you into the woods where the trees bear labels with their names. It will be highly interesting to compare the bark, the foliage and peculiar growths of the various trees. While in that vicinity walk over to the nearby museum, where the young students will find much to interest them in their nature study.

On the library shelves a large collection of books on nature study will be found and the librarian will gladly give helpful suggestions in selecting your reading material for the month.

This month's reading will open up to the children a vista of thought and information that will make them appreciate and enjoy the beauties of nature instead of just taking these wonders for granted.

Household Hints
The vacuum cleaner will quickly draw the dirt from the hot air registers.

Keep a small bag of sulphur in the drawers or on the shelves where red ants congregate and you will drive them away.

If the drawers squeak or pull hard rub the sides with paraffin or soap.

You can quickly rid your pantry of mice if you sprinkle a little oil of peppermint around.

Gasoline will clean leather but do not use it on imitation leather. When latter becomes sticky sponge thoroughly with mopsuds containing a little borax and when perfectly dry apply a light coat of white shellac.

If your cellar is damp and musty spread a few large lumps of unslaked lime or charcoal on old trays, etc. And whitewashing the walls will help, but be sure to use whitewash made of lime and water only.

THE QUEEN TAKES CHARGE

WELL, the Queen of the Universe has been crowned at Galveston, Tex. Her coronation costume was a one-piece bathing suit.

Austin, Tex., may have the State House. But Galveston is the capital of the universe. The Queen's palace is a bath house and Parliament meets on the Board Walk.

The Queen is elected for one year. Miss Universe of 1928 did not run this season on account of a bad case of fatted calves.

The candidates came from all over the world, representing different parties. There wasn't a conservative among the candidates and none of them had ever been connected with Labor, either.

The Queen of the Universe makes one more lady to sit down ahead of Mrs. Gann. She also has other duties, important duties are:

1. To see that the eclipse of the sun takes place next Sept. 28 at the appointed minute and is visible in parts of Australia, New Zealand, the Straits Settlements and Ceylon. In case this eclipse does not occur exactly as predicted, the Queen will rule that the Old Farmer's Almanac lacks a voice of confidence and she will form a new Board of Editors.

2. The Queen of the Universe must see that there is a ring around the planet Saturn—or is it Jupiter? This ring is one of the crown jewels.

3. She takes control of the rise and fall of the tides.

4. The Queen of the Universe appoints Secretary of the Treasury, who is responsible for every spot on the sun.

5. Any messages received from or despatched to Mars must be censored by the Queen of the Universe. This goes for wigwag signals, too.

6. Miss Universe must see that the Big Dipper and the Little Dipper are in place.

7. She must keep track of Halley's Comet and see that it does not leave her jurisdiction.

8. The Queen of the Universe must keep up the quality of the Milky Way and test it periodically for bacteria.

9. Miss Universe must see that traffic regulations are enforced and that light does not travel faster than 187,000 miles per second.

10. All persons contemplating a trip to the moon in rockets, projectiles, etc. must have their passports viced by the Queen of the Universe. They should also bring their own pajamas.

In addition to all these duties, the Queen of the Universe should see that she gets a place in Earl Carroll's chorus before she fades from the rotogravure sections.

Miss Universe of 1929 is the fifth Queen of the Universe to be elected. The universe is to be congratulated on the high quality of her chief executive. Each had a very successful administration and not one of them resigned like Mrs. Willerbrand.

It is true there was some kicking at the weather in Miss Universe of 1927's regime, but this was proved to be an entirely local matter and was patched up when she fired her Secretary of Sun Spots and Phenomena.

All other Queens have been a big success, and residents of the universe find in their usual prosperous way under their new Queen.

Royal proclamations will be forthcoming at once. It is understood that the Queen of the Universe is anxious to have Adolph Zukor or the Warner Brothers as her Prime Minister.

Richmond Well Represented With Service Clubs

Service Clubs Stimulating To City's Progress

RICHMOND, like other progressive cities, has its Service Clubs.

The code of ethics practiced and followed at these various organizations reaches deep into a man's soul and brings out the best in him both for his city and his fellow man.

Too much cannot be said for these clubs and the good they do for the community. Every civic movement for the city's betterment is known to the members and very important topics are touched relating to a city's problems.

These clubs are not gloomy affairs, and aside from the serious things that come up for discussion there is much enjoyment to be had from their weekly meetings.

The clubs are composed of the leading business and professional men of the city where they meet to forget their particular business or profession and devote themselves to affairs of city and state.

The service club, as a rule, will not admit more than one person in any one line of business—thus avoiding unnecessary shop talk. In fact shop talk is not permitted at the meetings.

The service clubs are responsible for bringing many men of National affairs to Richmond, and the good our city receives from these visits is priceless.

Speaking of service clubs, Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the United States Treasury, recently said, "They are sponsored with good fellowship—and help to make a good citizen a better one."

OUR SERVICE CLUBS ARE VALUABLE ASSETS TO RICHMOND.

BERKELEY NINE BEATEN BY JUNIORS

In a close six inning practice game last evening the Richmond American Legion Junior baseball team sponsored by the Richmond Athletic Union defeated the Berkeley team.

Bono started for the locals and he had an unusually wild night. The Berkeley team made three runs in the fourth inning on a single, an error, a hit batter and three walks in a row. At this stage of the game Babiuch was sent in and what he showed the Berkeley boys was plenty. On the first pitched ball which got away from San Miguel, Berkeley scored the fourth run. Babiuch struck out Connors, and Land hit into a force out at second leaving two stranded on the bases. Babiuch struck out two men in the last two innings out of the six who faced him.

Locke, uncorked a scorching home run in the fifth which cleared the left field fence some 20 feet. He also got a single. The Richmond team made thirteen hits and the best the Berkeley team could do was three, one a triple by Turturic.

The local boys played a whole of a game and showed marked improvement in their work, the result of some good coaching by Chick Autry, Tony LaMarr, John Garvin, Chas. Fien and other experienced players. Weeks made a fine play at third cutting off a run on a quick stop and throw while Trensue in center field made a beautiful running catch. Rodgers was out of the game with a lame back and the hitting of Hampshire was missed, but the team as a whole showed more promise tonight than on any previous occasion.

INDIANS LOSE SECOND TO OAKLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—UP—Four runs scored by the San Francisco Seals in the seventh inning here today shaved the advantage of the league-leading Missions to only two games for it gave the second place Seals their second straight victory, 5 to 3.

Another feature of the circuit today was the drop of the Los Angeles Angels, who were closest competitors of the Missions for many weeks, out of the first division, Oakland took the Angels place by beating them, 3 to 8.

Oakland trounced Seattle, 5 to 3, and were only five games behind the Missions staying six games ahead of oolwood. Sacramento and Portland split a double header, the Senators taking the first 11 to 0 and the Beavers the second 5 to 1.

A single by Jolly, right fielder, a double by Wingo, left fielder, and an error by Hoffman, Mission catcher, gave the Seals their four runs in the seventh when they were trailing by one run. Hollywood scored once in the first of the ninth inning to break an eight to eight tie made by the Angels. With three runs in the eighth, Oakland scored all five runs in the eighth after Seattle and made its total in the fifth.

Hoover Mine To Be Marked

SACRAMENTO, June 19.—Only a caved-in shaft and the rock dump remain to remind one of the Reward mine, near Nevada City where President Herbert Hoover once worked as a day laborer and from which place he started on the road to fame.

The mine lies west of Nevada City, an old dirt road leading from the main highway just opposite the high school.

While Leslie Davies, secretary of the Sacramento Region citizens council was in Nevada City recently, residents there asked that this spot be recorded on the highway markers which are to be placed in the northern counties by the Trails of '49 committee of the Sacramento region.

HOUSE DEBATES PROHIBITION QUESTION

WASHINGTON, June 19.—UP—Prohibition claimed conspicuous attention today at the White House, in several of the executive branches, and in Congress, where caustic debate over recent enforcement killings took place.

Comment on a report from Detroit that rum runners there fired today on U. S. customs men, Assistant Treasury Secretary Lowman said "that shows the desperate character of the men we are fighting." Lowman said the incident illustrates the necessity for arming customs border patrolmen in their attempt to reduce smuggling of liquor.

He added the organization of the customs service in Detroit is now completed and the treasury will proceed with fullest energy to conduct its anti-smuggling campaign.

"We are going right ahead and there will be no let-up in this campaign until the smuggling is stopped. That applies not only to Detroit, but all along the border, where we are strengthening our forces," Lowman added.

CAPTAIN TAKEN FROM SINKING CRAFT

ASTORIA, Ore., June 19.—UP—Scuttling at fears which others held for his personal safety, Captain Louis Johnson of the wrecked freighter Laurel, grinned at interviewers here today, after having been brought ashore by the Cape Disappointment coast guard crew.

There was no danger, I left because there was no longer any reason for staying," he said. Johnson had refused to leave the wreck Monday when the last of his men were taken off. He stayed aboard to protect the owner's salvage claims but today it appeared there would be nothing to salvage.

Monday night's 66 mile an hour gale weakened the half-ship which the lone mariner rode since the vessel broke its back and drifted on the beach north of the mouth of the Columbia river at 2:40 a. m. Sunday. Tuesday the bulkheads began to give way. Captain Johnson donned a life belt and hung out a distress flag, but the seas were running too high for an attempt to take him off.

Today the seas had moderated and only a gentle breeze was blowing. A line was tossed to him from the lifeboat and he slid from the deck into the tossing craft and was brought to shore through the surf with the ship's instruments and papers safe in his care.

Throughout the three tempestuous nights Johnson slept, he says. There was plenty of water and food aboard, and he kept a fire in the galley range. He did Oakland, Calif. Jan. 2, 1929.

For about four years I suffered severely from Stomach Trouble which the doctors called "Stomach Ulcers." After I had failed to respond to numerous treatments, I was operated on five times. This was six months ago, and my stomach has been in fine condition ever since. I can now eat anything I please without ill effect.

MRS. T. MICKEY KILLED IN CRASH

Funeral services are being arranged here for Mrs. Thomas J. Mickey, 42, 133 Barrett avenue, who was killed in an automobile accident at Alameda yesterday morning. The body arrived here last night.

According to press reports, Mickey was driving the car when the accident occurred. Mickey told police that he was slowing down at a bridge crossing when the car swerved and smashed into a telephone pole. Officers declared that they believed the car brakes locked.

Miss Dorothy Mickey was slightly injured and Miss Marie Nougier, 18, 241 Seventh street, who was with the Mickey party, was slightly cut and bruised.

The Mickey family was on a vacation trip to the Yosemite valley. Mickey is employed by the Santa Fe as an engineer.

Mrs. Mickey was a native of France and was 42 years of age. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lesore, 1907 Thirtieth avenue, Oakland. The Mickey family moved to Richmond 12 years ago.

Besides her husband, daughter and parents, Mrs. Mickey leaves two sisters, Mrs. A. J. Moore, of Berkeley, and Mrs. Louise Darrou of Oakland.

Mrs. Mickey was an active member of the St. Edmund's Episcopal church and was past president of the Pennsylvania club. She was a member of the G. I. A. auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

DAMAGE IN NEW ZEALAND QUAKES AT $5,000,000

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, June 19.—(U.P.)—Damage by the earthquakes which have shaken this group of islands since Monday was estimated today at $5,000,000.

Thirteen lives are known to have been lost.

There have been 32 distinct shocks, the first of which was the heaviest and most damaging. The entire landscape rocked and vast avalanches occurred everywhere as residents rushed from creaking, rattling houses.

Two hills appeared to observers to have melted away. Unbroken ridges suddenly developed gullies and it seemed as though the whole countryside would be churned into complete ruin at any moment.

Huge masses of hillsides slipped into Lake Rotorua with a roaring rumble which could be heard for miles. Lake Brunner was consulted, the center falling in rapidly and the remainder running into a gap in the bottom. Then it rose again, shooting a colossal fountain of water into the air.

Flood Feared
The menace of a flood as an aftermath of the series of tremors had caused the government to arrange to take off residents of the town in case of necessity.

The earthquake disaster has not been paralleled in the history of New Zealand.

Every building in Murchison was leveled by the shocks. The populace spent the night in the schoolyard, where a hotel chief prepared food for all.

Miners Removed
After a long series of violent shocks the school building collapsed. The last child, a little girl, made her exit just as the chimney began to topple.

A number of men have remained in Murchison and refuse to leave unless taken away by force. They hope to discover new gold deposits which may have been uncovered by the upheaval. The area surrounding Murchison, a dairy region, formerly was an alluvial structure bearing gold, most of which was worked out. It is suggested that the quake may have disclosed profitable auriferous deposits.

Debris which fell into the gorge of the Matakaiti river seems likely to cause the formation of a permanent lake of large extent. One of the curious features of

HUNDREDS DIE IN INDIAN FLOOD

CALCUTTA, India, June 19.—(U.P.)—Disastrous floods which submerged many small villages in the Cachar district of northeastern India were reported today. Hundreds of lives were said to have been lost.

Officials in charge of relief workers from Assam district confirmed the great extent of the disaster. They were unable to give any definite figures on the number of dead in scores of villages which were damaged or destroyed by the floods.

Thousands of natives were reported homeless. Probably 45 percent of the homes in Cachar and nearby districts were washed away.

All steamship and railroad transportation in the Sylhet and Cachar districts has been halted. Telegraph communication has been interrupted for five days.

The danger of food shortage was becoming acute, the reports said.

Many escaped by clinging to tree-tops until rescued. Others were forced to break holes in the roofs of their submerged homes to escape.

Camouflaged Stills Raided By Dry Force

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—(U.P.)—Wartime camouflage failed to conceal effectively a mountain still near Tehachapi which was raided by prohibition agents today.

They confiscated two 28-gallon stills, 15,000 gallons of mash, 32 vats of alcohol and arrested Harry Murray, Tony Tropani and Toni Bruno. The men were held under $5000 bail each and charged with possession of a still.

After several days of investigation, the officers finally located a portion of the canyon which had been covered by a canvas 100 by 250 feet. Brush had been fastened to the canvas roof to give it the appearance of heavy undergrowth. A "sweeping" system obliterated tracks.

CITIZENSHIP ACT CHANGES MADE

Many important changes have been made in the Naturalization procedure as a result of the Act of March 2, 1929, which becomes effective July 1, 1929, some of the changes being as follows:

The filing fee on and after July 1, 1929, will be $5.00 for a declaration of intention and $10.00 for a petition for naturalization, the present fee being $1.00 for declaration and 4.00 for filing petition.

Declarations of Intention
No declaration of intention can be filed after July 1, 1929 without first obtaining a certificate of legal entry into the United States, regardless of the date of such entry. The fee for the issuance of the certificate of arrival is $5.00.

KAUFMAN WILL FACE SERIOUS CHARGE

ALBANY, June 19.—C. A. Kaufman, 219 Kearney street, El Cerrito, a bill collector is free on $2500 bail awaiting hearing before Police Judge George Hickman on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

According to police reports C. E. Andrews, a local blacksmith, 501 Adams street, owes his life to the fact that Kaufman is a poor shot and that three bullets fired by the bill collector went wild.

Kaufman, according to police, visited the Andrews' shop yesterday afternoon in an effort to collect a bill which Andrews admitted that he owes, and which, he says, he hasn't enough money to pay. Andrews ordered Kaufman to leave the place and Kaufman reached for his pistol. Richard Baker, 937 Evelyn street, Albany, a visitor at Andrews' shop, sought refuge behind a fence and viewed the fray through a knot-hole. One of the shots went through a wall of the shop.

Kaufman fled and was arrested in El Cerrito by Patrolman Stanley Williams. Bail was fixed at $2500 which was paid.
